

Name _____

Date _____

My Drawing of the Gingerbread Man

An adjective provides information about a noun. It is often called a 'describing' word. The passage below is a description of the Gingerbread Man. There are many adjectives in this description that tell us what the Gingerbread Man looks like. Carefully, read the description below.

The Gingerbread Man has a brown flat body and head that are made of gingerbread. He has a thin red mouth and a wide smile. He has two round eyes that are made of blue icing. The Gingerbread Man has a red cherry for a nose. The cheeks on his face are made from two brown raisins. The Gingerbread Man has three buttons on his body. The first button is green, the second button is pink and the third button is yellow. He has a black squiggly line for a belt across the middle of his body. His shoes are made of green icing.

When you have read and re-read the description carefully, complete the following steps.

1. Underline the adjectives in the passage.
2. Use a pencil to draw the features of the Gingerbread Man to match the description.
3. Use crayons to colour in the Gingerbread Man to match the description.

